You do not need to provide evidence of your benefit when you submit your application form. We will check your entitlement to a free school meal using the Department for Education's Eligibility Checking Service. You must ensure, however, that all the details you provide on the form are accurate and clearly written. Occasionally we might write to you for further information or to request certain evidence.

If your application is successful, your child will continue to receive free school meals until March 2022, even if your circumstances change, while the Department for Education rolls out Universal Credit. Once Universal Credit is fully rolled out, your child will keep their free school meal entitlement until the end of their current phase of education. i.e. primary or secondary.

Extra funding for your child's school

Schools can claim additional funding from central government, known as the 'Pupil Premium' for every child whose parent or carer receives one of the benefits listed above. This additional money is used to ensure that children achieve academically and have full access to educational and cultural activities. However, it is for the school to decide how the money is spent. For more information, please ask at your child's school.
