Pastoral Care and Wellbeing Intent

Winchmore is a large, richly diverse school that has high levels of economic and cultural deprivation as well as a large number of SEND and EAL students. Our approach to behaviour for learning is underpinned by a positive, yet firm approach, designed to challenge and support all of our students to ensure that they achieve the best outcomes possible.

Our focus is to establish and develop positive relationships amongst our learners, by upholding high levels of expectation. We are committed and dedicated to implementing the necessary interventions and support mechanisms, to help students overcome barriers to learning, through the development of self regulation, positive praise, achievement and self confidence. We maintain a close working relationship with the local authority, providing extra support through CAMHS, Secondary Behaviour Support Services (SBSS) who offer a range of external interventions to support students and their families.

Our diverse learning community is underpinned by our core values, our 4 C's; courtesy, commitment, contribution and collaboration. These values are respected by students who are encouraged to achieve academic success, to give them life chances and opportunities through the development of cultural capital. Rewards incentives like trips are organised and offered to students providing them with opportunities to extend their learning horizons, build new friendships and life long experiences/ memories.

Our broad and balanced pastoral curriculum, along with a wide range of extra curricular activities underpins the foundations of developing cultural capital opportunities for our students allowing them to grow and to fulfil their potential. The role of a Form Tutor is essential in establishing productive relationships amongst their students. The daily Tutor programme promotes positive attitudes and provides a supportive foundation to assist student development. This comprises three key areas:

- Relationships, Sex and Health Education (RSHE)
- Social & Emotional aspects of Learning and Wellbeing and
- Assemblies.

A diligent approach is taken to record all incidents of poor behaviour in all Faculty areas. Staff are encouraged to log incidents on SIMS, engage with parents/carers, informing them of poor behaviour, triggering Heads of Department/Heads of Faculty (HoD/ HoF) intervention. HoF will notify Heads of Year (HoY) and inform them of concerns and actions taken. HoY and HoF to liaise about further sanctions.

The safeguarding of students is the responsibility of all staff at Winchmore School. This responsibility has been further reinforced by the introduction of CPOMS (Child Protection Online Management System). All incidents are reported to our Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) who, with support from our Deputy Safeguarding Team, responds to all incidents recorded.

There is a big emphasis on the teaching of literacy and the development of reading, writing and oracy in order to develop the students' academic language and to enable them to achieve the best possible results. Within Form Time literacy is a weekly focus where a range of literacy activities are delivered to support the development of language and comprehension.

WINCHMORE SCHOOL BEHAVIOUR POLICY

1. Introduction

At Winchmore we have adopted a whole school approach to behaviour management based around our agreed aims and values. It is a positive approach to behaviour which aims to prevent problems, develop relationships, support behaviour for learning and student wellbeing.

We firmly believe that positive relationships, effective discipline and good behaviour are essential to support learning and to enable pupils to achieve their best. In order to do this we will:

- Provide a safe environment free from disruption, aggression, bullying and any form of harassment.
- Adopt a positive approach in developing relationships and when managing behaviour within the learning environment.
- Implement a system of rewards for good behaviour and a range of sanctions aimed at correcting inappropriate behaviour.
- Encourage good behaviour in the classroom through the provision of high quality, well-planned, stimulating learning activities which are designed to meet specific needs.
- Promote early intervention to support behaviour for learning and to prevent problems from escalating.
- Work closely with parents, carers and other support agencies to develop a shared approach for maximising pupil progress and good behaviour.
- Have regard to our Equalities and Anti-Bullying Policies at all times.

At Winchmore we wish to create an ethos and environment in which:

- Students are calm, co-operative, courteous and respect one another.
- All staff believe that students can behave well and have high expectations of them at all times.
- Students take responsibility for their actions.
- Positive behaviours are modelled by all staff.
- All relationships are based on positive engagement and mutual respect.

- Treat others as you would like to be treated yourself.

6. Classroom Routines

These should be followed consistently by all staff:

1. Meet students at the classroom door.
2. Students are to line up quietly and enter the classroom ready to learn.
3. Students should check their uniform before entering the classroom (no coats, trainers, jewellery to be worn, trousers pulled up, blazer and tie on) staff should check uniform slips of any item of clothing that is not school uniform.
4. All teachers have a seating plan for the group, which can be clearly seen by students and is non-negotiable.
5. The register should be taken in the first 10 minutes of the lesson.
6. No phones, other electronic items or ear buds. Any that are seen should be confiscated.
7. The statement of minimum expectations should be clearly visible on the classroom wall so that reference can be made to them if it is necessary.
8. The class should be dismissed in groups to avoid a rush onto the corridor; the order of dismissal could reflect acknowledgement of positive behaviour during the lesson.

7. Strategies For Challenging Inappropriate Behaviour

Calmly challenge behaviour, be consistent with a positive approach each time, every time:

- Remind students of minimum expectations and what that means.
- Quiet verbal warning.
- Show a personal interest in the students.
- Use non-verbal cues (body language) to indicate to students that minimum expectations are not being met e.g. pointing to head as a sign to remove hat.
- Give students a responsibility.
- Maintain their dignity and self-esteem even when correcting them.
- Re-explain tasks / offer additional support / differentiate in line with student learning needs.
- Check comprehension - low stakes testing.
- Give students time out, cool down time (2 – 3 min maximum).
- Speak privately to students out of earshot of other students.
- Listen to pupils, find out what the problem is and then reiterate the minimum expectation that has not been met.
- Explain the consequences of the inappropriate behaviour and provide pupils with a choice.
- Sent to another lesson to work, with a note for the receiving teacher, following Faculty Policy. Follow up with a reparation before the next lesson.

8. Rewards

“Praise, changes relationships, raises self-esteem, increases motivation and improves attitudes to teacher, subject and school” (Paul Dix).

Ideas of ways that a student can be rewarded:

- Private and discreet verbal praise; this could be about their work, the way they are moving about school, improved uniform.
- Use small good work, good concentration cards or write a message on a “post it” to discreetly place in the students’ work area to acknowledge the positive behaviour they are displaying.
- Non-verbal signals to show acknowledgement of positive behaviour for example nod of head, thumbs up sign if a student is following instructions
- Positive phone call home.
- Positive letters, postcards home.
- Log Achievement Points. A cumulative system that is acknowledged on a regular basis (see Rewards Policy).
- Log good behaviour on SIMS.
- Leave first system where the students who have been displaying positive behaviour are dismissed from the classroom first

9. Sanctions

For a sanction to be most effective it should be immediate or as soon as possible after the incident, parents and carers should be informed along with Tutor, HoD/ HoF/ HoY.

Detentions

Should be used as an opportunity to have a restorative conversation with a student.

Staff should keep students and lead on positive discussion with students to communicate where their behaviour was seen as inappropriate. HoD, HoF, HoY or the Behaviour Team could be invited if necessary to support and facilitate this behaviour for learning conversation.

It is essential to establish a positive relationship during this time and what the required behaviour is and how the next lesson the student has with you will be approached.

Parents and carers should be informed of this with immediate effect so that they can also support their child and staff in adapting their child's behaviour.

A short detainment with two-way dialogue is more effective than a prolonged detention with meaningless work and no reference to the reason the student has been detained.

If the student has not completed homework or not been engaged in learning during the lesson, compulsory attendance to a Homework/ catch up club would be an effective way to move forward. This then detains the student but also gives valuable support and enables some more focused time to identify if the student is finding the work difficult.

It is really important if a member of staff requests a student to stay after a lesson, return at the end of the day or attend a homework/ catch up club that they are there and talk to the student about what has happened. It is equally important that the sanction is carried through in the manner that was originally stated i.e. 10 minutes is not extended or shortened. This is to ensure consistency and the student understands that what is said is what is meant.
Staff should aim to inform parents and carers when a child is kept behind at short notice.

Taking work home to complete

If work has not been completed in class because the student has chosen not to engage in the lesson, it could be set as additional homework with a target to bring it back at an agreed time. This could be set through Google Classroom to individuals or small groups.

A phone call home could just confirm with the parent/ carer what has happened and gain their support in ensuring the work is completed and returned.

Internal Exclusion

Referrals can only be made to internal exclusion by the Headteacher, Deputy Head (Behaviour) or Assistant Head (Behaviour). Internal exclusion is for more serious breaches of the school Behaviour Policy and is an alternative to external suspension. Internal exclusion is held at the main Winchmore site where students will be supervised by members of the Behaviour Team and work will be set for students to complete in isolation.

The Exclusion room day is 8.30am – 4.00pm. This will be extended if the student is late or does not behave in an appropriate way.

The number of days in the Internal Exclusion will have been agreed and recorded; student's attendance will be full days only.

Students will report to the Internal Exclusion at 8.30am and register with the Behaviour Team member on duty. They will be expected to be in full school uniform and have writing equipment.

If the student is late, the number of minutes they are late will be doubled and added to the end of the day. This will be stated clearly to the student when they arrive and recorded on their Record Sheet for Exclusion Room.

The student will be allocated a seat and will be given work to do. The work will vary in nature and subject and will be appropriate to their age and ability. Teachers may set work to be done whilst the student is in Internal Exclusion and this is particularly important for KS4.

Students are not to leave the Internal Exclusion, they will be allowed to go to the toilet and have a lunch break but this will be facilitated in the Internal Exclusions room. No student will leave the Internal Exclusion during the day unaccompanied.

Students will be expected to work in silence and complete the work they have been set.

A Record Sheet for Internal Exclusion will be completed by the Behaviour Team member on duty. At the end of the day this will be reviewed with each student.

External suspension of pupils

Suspensions are the ultimate sanction and should only be used in very serious cases. Suspension from school can only be authorised by the Headteacher/ Deputy Headteacher.

In all circumstances, when a suspension is considered appropriate, reference will be made to Suspension and Permanent Exclusion from maintained schools, academies and pupil referral units in England including pupil movement (January 2022).

There are two types of exclusion: fixed term suspensions and permanent exclusions.

Fixed term suspensions:

- May be used for serious incidents involving threatening behaviour, fighting or refusing to follow authority and persistent disruption to lessons.
- The length of each suspension is carefully considered taking into account the nature and seriousness of the incident, the past record of the pupil and the effect of the incident on the school community.
- 6 Day plus provision will be organised should students receive more than 5 days of suspension.
- Written details of the incident must be collected including those of witnesses.
- All statements must be dated and signed.
- For these reasons all incidents will be carefully documented.
- The Parent / carer is phoned by the Deputy Head, Assistant Head or HoY to explain the incident and the exclusion. A Fixed term Exclusion letter is posted/emailed home.
- The pupil returns at an agreed time with the parent / carer for a reintegration meeting with the Headteacher, Assistant Headteacher and HoY at which targets for improvement will be set.
- Staff are informed of the suspension via an email.
- The suspension is logged on the incident record and the LA informed.
- Subject teachers are responsible for ensuring that appropriate work is set and marked on Google Classroom for all suspensions beyond one day.

Permanent exclusion

Permanent exclusions is the ultimate sanction and will only be considered in cases of serious persistent and on-going disruption or in cases of extremely serious one-off incidents.

Serious acts of violence, drug misuse (which includes vaping and being in possession of vapes/illegal substances) or acts of violence that involve a weapon, will result in a recommendation for suspension or permanent exclusion. It is school policy to inform the police if there is suspicion of a criminal offence.

- Only the Headteacher may permanently exclude pupils.
- Procedures followed as above except that the pupil does not return to the school.
- The parents and pupil are invited to a meeting of the Disciplinary Committee of the Governing Body for an exclusion hearing. The panel will decide whether or not to uphold the Headteacher's decision to permanently exclude.
- To prevent permanent exclusion a managed move may be offered and arranged through the Fair Access Panel within the Local Authority.

10. Protocols for the On-Call System

If a teacher requires a student to be removed from a lesson because they are disrupting teaching and learning and are not responding to teacher interventions in the classroom the procedures below will be followed.

On-Call must only be used as a last resort or in an emergency situation.

1. Send a message to the office to request a call out. This could be via a reliable student taking a note, email, a phone call, via a technician or classroom support assistant.
2. When the Behaviour Team member arrives at the classroom they will remove the student from the classroom or aim to support the teacher in reintegrating the student back into the lesson.
3. The Behaviour Team will ask for a brief description of the nature of the incident and what interventions have been tried with the student. This will be done outside the classroom and not in front of an audience.
4. The Behaviour Team member will arrange a reparation meeting with the student and member of staff. This needs to be at the next break or after school if an incident occurs in period 5. It could also be at the start of a non-contact period if you have one. It is important that the reparation is done as quickly as possible after the incident has occurred. The Behaviour Team will record the meeting with the student and will then record it as an initiative on SIMS.
5. The reparation meeting will be facilitated by a member of the Behaviour Team and an appropriate sanction decided upon.

Classroom Incidents (lessons, form time, PSCH EE)
Type of incident / behaviour	Who deals with incident / How to deal with incident	Reporting and recording incidents
Level 1 Not following minimum expectations Low level disruption for example <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Calling out • Talking when asked to be quiet • Slow to start task 	Teacher / adult in the classroom positively challenge behaviour and reinforce minimum expectations. Activate interventions to manage behaviour. Quietly acknowledge when a student is meeting expectations and managing their behaviour.	No recording required, this is normal management behaviour in the classroom.

Level 2 Not following minimum expectations / managing behaviour after initial warnings Additional behaviour such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Greater disruption/involving others • Constantly calling out, talking • Rudeness • Failure to engage in tasks and complete work, despite support 	Teacher / adult in the classroom Speak calmly and quietly to students and explain consequences of the behaviour they are choosing, the next stage is they will be parked in another classroom. Give the student an opportunity to act on warning and change / manage their behaviour.	Record on the SIMS Behaviour Management record, including the interventions used.

Type of incident / behaviour	Who deals with incident / How to deal with incident	Reporting and recording incidents
Level 3 Repeating behaviours already addressed, continuing to refuse to follow instructions Disruption to teaching and learning escalation of behaviour <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Student walks out of class • Arguing / more serious rudeness • Talking over teacher preventing the lesson continuing 	Teacher / adult in room. Check the “parking room” for your faculty; fill in a slip for Faculty Parking and have work ready to send with the student. Do not make a big fuss; explain quietly to the student that this is what they need to do. If there is another adult in the room, they should accompany the student to the designated room.	Record the incident on the SIMS Behaviour Management record, stating the reason why the student parked. Fill in a paper Incident Record and pass to HoF if curriculum based / HoY if pastoral based. Inform Parents/Carers on the day of the incident. Organise a reparation meeting with the student, ideally the same day, so the situation is addressed, difficulties identified and discussed and clear expectations for the next lesson agreed. At this meeting make it clear what will happen if there is no improvement i.e. Meeting with HoF, Faculty monitoring, contacting parents.
Level 4 Student has not responded to the interventions / warnings given in stages 1 – 3 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There is open defiance towards an adult in the classroom 	Teacher or adult in the room call for “on – call” support by contacting reception via another student or an adult in support role. Student will be removed from the lesson and taken to the Remove Room to write an account of their behaviour.	Behaviour Team will ask for a brief account of the incident and what you have already done to manage the student within the lesson. Behaviour Team will agree a time for reparation meeting, ideally the same day, definitely before the next lesson.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Conflict with another student in the room – aggressive verbal or physical behaviour ● Fighting in classroom ● Threats to another person (staff or student) in the room. 	Behaviour Team will make a judgement about when the student should return to their timetabled lesson and this is generally at the earliest possible opportunity. For a major incident the student will be held in the remove room to allow further investigation. DO NOT discuss the incident or student with the class once they have been removed – the class needs to be re focused on learning.	Behaviour Team will record the “call out” and incident on SIMS Behaviour Management record. You need to fill out a paper Incident report as soon as possible (Behaviour Team will hand you one) and return it asap or bring it to reparation meeting.
---	--	---

Recording an incident is important as it forms a record of how a student is behaving and responding across the school. The tutor and HOY will have an overview of individual students and some are monitored at higher level by SLT.

The SIMS behaviour log is used in discussion with parents / carers and it is therefore important that just the clear facts about a situation are recorded and any intervention and / or sanction that has been implemented. It is not appropriate to record your feelings about the student or what you think should happen next.

Monitoring and evaluating

Behaviour information and data will be monitored and evaluated, through the Learning Community Self Review process to identify any trends which may emerge, and take appropriate action. In addition a formal, SLT led, whole school review of behaviour will be carried out each year, including a review of the SIMS behaviour log and other information such as that relating to exclusions and feedback from staff, students and parents. An annual report will be made to the Governing Body. Senior staff and Governors will evaluate the effectiveness of the policy and practice, and agree adjustments that may be necessary.

11. Monitoring And Evaluating

Behaviour information and data will be monitored and evaluated, through the Learning Community Self Review process to identify any trends which may emerge, and take appropriate action. In addition a formal, SLT led, whole school review of behaviour will be carried out each year, including a review of the SIMS behaviour log and other information such as that relating to exclusions and feedback from staff, students and parents. An annual report will be made to the Governing Body. Senior staff and Governors will evaluate the effectiveness of the policy and practice, and agree adjustments that may be necessary.
